

Why designers love Straightcurve®

As a designer, you know that finding the right materials is crucial to bringing your vision to life. Our suite of Straightcurve® products gives you the freedom to design without limitations. Here are 7 reasons why designers love Straightcurve®:

Peace of mind solution:

Our Straightcurve® solutions make installation simple and solves connecting edges and bracing systems, so you can focus on your creative vision without worrying about installation.

No custom fabrication required:

No need for a custom fabricator, saving time and money for your clients. This means no more creating design files for fabrication or welding on site.

Freedom of design:

The wide range of Straightcurve® products, and compatible connections between them, offers freedom of design, allowing you to choose the perfect products for your design.

Environmentally Conscious:

Straightcurve is committed to using sustainable practices in the production of its products. This makes our products suitable for those who are environmentally conscious and looking for eco-friendly products.

Safe:

Our products are not sharp, but have a rolled top, making them pet and child-friendly, so you can create a safe and beautiful outdoor space for your clients.

Beautiful:

The aesthetically pleasing design of our products is sure to impress your clients.

High Quality:

Straightcurve products are designed to last, made from high-quality materials that are durable and resistant to wear and tear. Landscape designers can be confident that the edging will maintain its shape and appearance over time.
